Artistic Statement

My creative aim is to craft intricate, cross-genre productions that, through the tools of poetic and mystical theatre, address and illuminate pressing social issues, engaging the audience on a profound emotional level. The themes I explore in my work include immigration, domestic violence, and violence in a broader sense.

3SCHWESTERN3

Role: idea, director, choreographer, actor.

Venue and date: Holzmarkt, Berlin, June 2024.

Kinetic Forest theater company

"3Schwestern3" – cabaret in exile: an artistic exploration of loss and new beginnings.

Blending Chekhov's classic with the spirit of Berlin's exile cabaret, the performance reflects the journey of people starting life in a new country. It moves from euphoria to denial, sadness, and ultimately acceptance. Six actors share their personal stories through dance, music, and theater, creating a sincere experience for the audience.

Blood Wedding

by Federico Garcia Lorca

Destino-opera

Role: director, choreographer.

Venue and date: September 2021

Chelyabinsk Chamber Theater

“Thanatos ascends, triumphant in every aspect, be that through artistic decisions, theatrical execution, or the overarching concept. Blood-red light. A veil transforming into a shroud. Crooked chairs, like leaning tombstones. Funereal lullabies. A bride advancing to her wedding as though to the scaffold. A black wedding gown and countless marks of death. Cast into the “dance floor,” they blossom into a danse macabre.”

Devil in Love

by Aleksander Vustin

Opera

Role: choreographer, movement director.

Venue and date: 2019

Stanislavsky Nemirovich Danchenko

Theatre, Moscow

Generation P

by Victor Pelevin

Existential musical

Role: playwright, director, choreographer.

Venue and date: October 2018

Chelyabinsk Chamber Theater

“This performance is dedicated to an exploration of meaning in human existence (or rather it’s absence) within the context of modern world. The performance merges fantasy, mysticism, detective fiction, action, drugs, and cyberpunk, blending reality with hallucinations and revelations, while vividly capturing the atmosphere of the 90s. It carries a distinct irony, almost a parody of our lives.”

The Snow Maiden by Nikolai Rimski-Korsakov

Opera

Henri

by Marina Sobyagina
Chorus ballet

Role: idea, libretto, director, choreographer.

Venue and date: December 2014
Theater of Musical Comedy Sverdlovsk

An interdisciplinary performance about the life of French Post-Impressionist artist Henri Toulouse-Lautrec, exploring how the artist transforms his uniqueness and perceived flaws into great and eternal art.

“Everything unfolds like a suite – sound, movement, and dance seamlessly intertwine: the music finds its perfect visual counterpart, leaving a strong impression. Each character’s entrance is unexpected, the chorus is graceful, and the dancers display remarkable expressiveness. The predominant style is grotesque.”

War and Peace

by Sergej Prokofiev
